

I urge you to vote against the proposed rules changes regarding ownership rules. More diversity in ownership leads to more information and more viewpoints presented to the American people.

I am concerned that your response to a public reaction against what appears to be your pre-determined decision is met by you with arrogant indifference. Yours is a public agency, funded publically, is it not?